Chungking Report Says Japanese Troops Cross Border From Burma

Chinese Troops Fight Desperately To Halt Advance Into China

By FRANCIS LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

CHUNGKING, May 5.—With Japanese spearheads already reported to have crossed the Chinese border into Yunnan Province from Burma, Chinese troops were fighting desperately today, determined to inflict maximum casualties on the enemy before falling back under tremendous pressure.

Wanting, just across the Chinese border, has not been occupied as yet, a military spokesman stated.

A Japanese drive on Bhamo was expected in an effort to cut Chinese communications in the area.

Supplies Removed
Only small quantities of supplies remain at Wanting, the spokesman said, since Chinese forces removed large quantities of stores deep into the hilly interior of China before the fall of Lashio.

It was pointed out that the Japanese must wage this campaign over extremely hilly terrain.

The spokesman said the situation throughout Burma was admittedly serious due to the enemy's overwhelming numerical superiority, adding:

"But there is no alarm among the Chinese people or the rank and file of the army."

"There will be no withdrawal from Burma until the war is won by the United Nations, nor will there be any relaxation of effort on our part to defeat the enemy."

The spokesman scoffed at Japanese reports that British and

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, May 5.—Large fires were started and a number of enemy planes destroyed or damaged in new United Nations air attacks against the Jap-held bases of Lae, New Guinea, and Rabaul, New Britain, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today.

The American and Australian fliers succeeded in dropping bombs on a group of 20 planes dispersed on the ground at the Rabaul airfield, the communique said. Three direct hits were scored on grounded aircraft.

A large Japanese supply dump at Rabaul was sent up in flames. (The London Evening News reported that Brigadier General Martin F. Scanlon led the attack on Rabaul.)

Germans Send Fighter Planes With Bombers In Attacks On Britain

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 5.—Great Britain's "master plan" for destruction of the German war machine proceeded on time-table schedule today with devastating new attacks against the great Skoda munitions works at Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, industrial targets at Stuttgart in southwest Germany and the docks at Nantes in northern France.

Aided by fighter planes, the bombers also attacked enemy air fields in France and shipping off the coasts of Holland and Norway. Three British bombers are missing.

Meanwhile, it was learned that German fighter planes for the first time escorted bombers in attacks on Britain last night. It was believed the Nazis were forced to use new tactics as a result of losses in recent raids on Bath, York and Exeter. Hitherto it was thought impracticable to escort night bombers.

Site Of Bosch Works

Stuttgart is the site of the important Bosch Works, well-known for its manufacture of magnetos and other electrical instruments for both airplanes and tanks.

Other targets in southern Germany also were bombed. The assault was acknowledged by the German radio.

The German broadcast said there were a number of casualties as a result of the bombings and claimed one British bomber was destroyed.

There also was some sort of unexplained air activity over the capital of unoccupied France during the night. Reuters news agency said anti-aircraft batteries at Vichy went

Russians Hold Initiative On All Sectors

Consolidate New Gains Registered In Offensive Of Yesterday

REPORT NAZIS LOSE 264 PLANES RECENTLY

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, May 5.—Continuing to hold the initiative at all key sectors along the front, Russian armies today consolidated new gains registered in offensive battles reported in an official communique yesterday.

Department from the usual truce "no major changes," the communique said that Soviet forces had lashed out with new blows against the enemy "in some sectors," and had improved their positions. The sectors were not identified.

(In a dispatch from Stockholm, the London Daily Herald said the Red army was tightening its ring around the trapped remnants of Germany's 16th Army in the Staraya Russa sector after recapturing an important railway junction.)

Blow Up Ammunition Dumps
On the Leningrad front, however, the Russians blew up two ammunition dumps and one fuel dump in addition to killing 1,100 enemy soldiers and destroying many guns and trench mortars, a supplement to the communique disclosed.

The Germans were reported to have lost 264 planes in the period between April 26 and May 2. Russian losses for the same period totaled 71 planes, the supplement said. In Sunday fighting alone, the Nazis lost 12 planes to eight for the Soviets, it was said.

LONDON, May 5.—One jump ahead of the enemy in a surprise move that may net the United Nations three French warships as well as vital naval and air bases, British occupational forces including commando units today landed on the island of Madagascar in the Indian Ocean.

First reports said little opposition was encountered. But the German radio broadcast an announcement from Paris to the effect that French troops on the 1,000-mile long island athwart the Indian Ocean trade routes had been ordered to oppose the "British attack."

The announcement was credited to Fernand De Brinon, Vichy ambassador to Paris.

Forced To Cancel School Classes Today For Sugar Rationing

In an effort to keep abreast of the sugar rationing registration demands, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools cancelled all classes in the Elementary schools today and started the teachers registering at nine thirty this morning. It will continue until 9 this evening. Classes were conducted as usual in Senior and Junior high schools.

Despite heroic efforts by the teaching force Monday afternoon and evening, the school facilities were swamped. Many registrants did not get their cards until after eleven o'clock. This wasn't the fault of the teachers and it was the fact that the registration forms are long and detailed and require much time.

New Castle and Lawrence county were better off than many communities at that. In some places registrations were taken from the alphabet at large. Here the alphabet was divided into four classes at (Continued On Page Two)

Heavy Night Attack Is Made On Airdrome North Of Rangoon

By G. D. KARKARE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, May 5.—United States army air corps bombers, increasing their assaults against Japanese bases in Burma, conducted a heavy night attack against the invaders' airdrome at Mingaladon, north of Rangoon, it was disclosed in a communique today.

The runways at the airdrome were blasted and large explosions resulted when the bombs of the American fliers, under command of the Major General Lewis Brereton, found their targets.

Fires which broke out following the attack were visible for miles, the pilots reported.

The fires were said to be visible for 60 miles.

A number of heavy bombs were dropped by the planes which met only slight opposition from the Japanese.

All the American craft returned safely to their base in India.

The assault on Mingaladon followed by less than 24 hours a severe raid by American bomber forces against the rocks area of Rangoon.

Meanwhile, strong units of Chinese reinforcements, bolstered by large number of seasoned troops were reported rushing southward through China to the Burmese frontier to meet the rapidly advancing Japanese land forces which have moved to within 20 miles of the Yunnan province border.

Informed sources in Chungking expressed confidence that any Japanese attempt against Yunnan, back door of free China, would meet stiff resistance.

Confer On State Road Building Plan

State Men Are In Washington

Seek Clarification Of Order On Highway Building Priorities Program

MANY CONTRACTS HAVE BEEN ISSUED

By JOHN PAGET
(N. E. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, May 5—Fearful of a possible breakdown of a $40,000,000 state road building program, three highway department officials were in Washington, D. C., today seeking clarification of the federal order halting new construction not begun prior to April 9.

Secretary I. Lomont Hughes said that Chief Engineer Thomas C. Frame, H. R. Moffitt, chief maintenance engineer, and Fred H. Mason, departmental priorities officer, were conferring with officials of the War Production Board. Warning that priorities would not be available for new road building not considered essential to the war effort was issued by the W. P. B. April 13.

Large Construction Planned

Hughes said the department had been making plans for a large construction program this year both by projects under contract and departmental forces and that approximately $20,000,000 in contracts had been approved by the department since Jan. 1.

"When the order was issued last month," he declared, "department officials were fearful that virtually all of the work planned for this season would have to be deferred for the duration of the war."

Hughes said the three officials would remain in Washington for several days in an effort to "obtain permission to go ahead with as much new construction work as possible." While the department had contracted for a large construction program this year, most of the work had not started prior to April 9 and therefore came under the ban.

"Defense roads will get preference in the event permission is granted to proceed while maintenance and reconstruction of other sections will be given attention," Hughes stated. "We also hope to be granted permission to continue our $10,000,000 rural road construction program."

Ready To Start
"In the event permission is granted, it will be possible to start construction on a number of sections of highway that were on the 1942 improvement schedule. The construction projects done by department forces also enable the department to provide balanced employment for its maintenance forces and help insure sufficient manpower during the winter season when snow removal work is a major maintenance program."

The department employs more than 12,000 maintenance workers and another 3,000 employees in field offices and headquarters. Hughes said that abandonment of a major share of the construction program would force the department to furlough many employees.

One of the major problems posed by the construction ban, Hughes emphasized, was that the reduction of maintenance employees in the field may seriously interfere with snow removal during the winter season. He pointed out that men furloughed from the payroll immediately would find new jobs and would be unavailable for call when winter arrives.

The department's $18,000,000 maintenance program for the fiscal year ending May 31 will not be hampered by the federal order, Hughes claimed. He said that all "necessary materials" for maintenance, such as concrete, stone, sand and gravel had not been placed on priorities lists and consequently would be available to keep the state's $4,521-mile highway system in excellent shape during the war.

JAPANESE NET TIGHTENING ON PHILIPPINES

The picture again appeared to be darkening under the shadow of the enemy's overwhelming superiority in men and equipment.

Choking Blockade
The position of Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's battle-weary forces has been aggravated recently by a choking blockade of the communication which left virtually no loopholes for supplies or reinforcements.

Seriousness of the situation was indicated by the war department's latest communication which reported continuous shelling and bombing attacks upon the Manila bay forts and a fresh invasion of Mindanao island from the north.

Additional landings on the island of Mindanao have been made by Japanese from four transports near Tagoloan in Macajalar bay, the communication said. "The enemy advance from the landing points is being stubbornly resisted by our troops."

China now has 10,000 industrial cooperative societies.

advanced base at Port Moresby, New Guinea, separated from Japanese bases in northeast New Guinea by high mountains.

Nine Nipponese bombers and 10 fighters took part in the assault which caused no damage. The attack occurred Monday, Gen. MacArthur said.

United Nations protective fighters went into the air to challenge the attackers and hit four of the Jap bombers and one fighter.

Commenting on the Japanese aerial activity in the Australian war theater one army man said:

"Jap Bombing Inaccurate
"The Japanese bombing recently has been so inaccurate and done so little damage that it is difficult to see why they continue it."

A senior army officer likened the Japanese air attacks to those of the Italian air force which at the beginning of the war was top-notch but soon became ineffective as the most expert of their bomber crews were lost.

In Canberra the war cabinet decided that the United States representative will henceforth be deputy chairman of the United Nations supply council. The council will be associated with the coordination, planning and advisory body on which both the United States and the Australian government are represented.

Can't Deliver Mail To Troops In Philippines

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5—Answering scores of complaints from parents of soldiers in the Philippines, the war department announced today that because of the Japanese blockade, the army postal service is unable to deliver mail to troops in the beleaguered commonwealth.

"No mail is being sent to and practically none has been received from American forces in the Philippine Islands since the Japanese launched their attack on Dec. 8, 1941," the war department said.

Officials of the army postal service said that they have received scores of letters to their sons have been returned and that they have received no word from the commonwealth by mail since December.

"Mail for soldiers had for some time been accumulated at ports of embarkation in the hope of a resumption of service to the Philippine Islands," army officials said. "But with the fall of Bataan, it became evident that this hope could not be realized in the near future and it seemed expedient that the post office department should return the letters to the senders."

Radio stations at Paris, Luxembourg and Berlin went off the air late last night, in advance of the arrival of the R. A. F. planes. Stuttgart was last raided by the R. A. F. during October of 1941.

Attacks On England

Two sharp attacks were made against a town on the south coast of England by German planes. At least 30 craft were estimated to have taken part in the first raid.

The second bombing was shorter than the first but served to rekindle fires which broke out after the first attack and which almost had been subdued as the Germans came over for a second time.

The damage in the main was concentrated in one area.

Two areas on the south coast of England suffered short but sharp air attacks carried out by German planes.

The attacks were marked by the fact that the Luftwaffe bombers for the first time in a long while were escorted by fighter craft.

HERSHEYS FIND MONDAY MEETING INSPIRATIONAL

Members of the Hershey Auxiliary enjoyed a very inspirational meeting Monday evening when they gathered in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church for their regular meeting.

Worship services for the year have followed the theme, "The Fruit of the Spirit," as found in Galatians V, verses 22 and 23. "But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance." At this meeting, the ninth of these, "temperance" was discussed by Mrs. A. A. Webb.

Messages from the Shenango Presbyterian, which was held at Ellwood City, were brought to the auxiliary by Mrs. Ira Ramsey, Mrs. Roy Snyder and Mrs. G. Wilfred Thomas.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. William F. Moody, who used the topic, "Latin America." Mrs. Moody has visited some of the countries in Latin America and her personal experiences added much to her discussion of their early civilization, customs, natural resources, and attitude of their people toward the people of the United States. She closed her talk with the impressive story of "Christ of the Andes."

During the business meeting, in charge of the president, Mrs. William Margraf, plans were completed for the Hershey tea which will be held in the church May 21, with Mrs. Frances Hanni giving a book review.

Mothers-Daughters banquet reservations for May 15 are in charge of Mrs. Lucien Black.

Hostess for the evening were Mrs. A. A. Webb, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Mayo Porter, Mrs. S. W. Perry, Mrs. Norman Patton, Miss Dayse Parsons, Mrs. LeRoy Clark and Mrs. J. A. McNeill.

Dr. Thomas Wenner Addresses Woman's Club; Officers Named

Woman's Club had the privilege of hearing as guest speaker, Dr. Thomas B. Wenner, head of the Department of Political Science, Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio, who put clearly the situation of our relations with Latin American neighbors in the present struggle.

Dr. Wenner held the close attention of his appreciative audience in Highland Presbyterian church, when he was introduced by Mrs. S. D. Pearson, of the program committee, at 2:30 o'clock. His insight on present day problems was first hand, and was exceedingly well presented in an enlightening and informative manner.

"Neighbors of the Canal Zone" was Dr. Wenner's topic, when he cited the possibility of we in the United States having to fight with our back to the wall. America, known to Latin American as "God's Country" has neglected for the time being, our neighbors and for that reason, we have a certain wall to break down in a "double quick play" as the natives in that sector, are suffering from a deep seated inferiority complex," he stated.

He stressed the anxiousness of our desiring to be so friendly, in this present struggle, and diplomatic leaders in Latin America have a most difficult time in awakening its people, to the seriousness of the situation that confronts them. "South of the Rio Grande, Latins are quite courteous; American tourists have been known in their jaunts there, to be quite unappreciative of the food, they found and the accommodations—the natives in general, and they hold that impression yet."

"Our little errors are reflected in magnified form, in their eyes." "We will have to do a lot of compromising, and we must 'dig down in our pockets' and help Latin America in this profound emergency." How can we create a better feeling? Dr. Wenner urges that schools study

WILLIAM S. HYDE IS MARRIED IN CLEVELAND

At the Church of the Savior, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, on Saturday afternoon, May second, Miss Mary Virginia Jones, daughter of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Olin Clark Jones, of Aurora, Ill., was married to William Stewart Hyde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mott V. Hyde, of 1201 Wilmington avenue. Dr. Jones performed the ceremony before a small group of relatives and intimate friends of the families.

Lovely in her wedding dress of white georgette, with shirred bodice and sleeves, and full skirt, with her short tulle veil held in place by a Juliet cap of tulle, and carrying a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, William D. Dotterer, of Barrington, Ill. There were no other attendants.

Following the ceremony, supper was served the bridal party and guests at Shaker Tavern, Cleveland. The couple are on their return trip south, and will be at home at 2507 Guilford road, Cleveland Heights.

The bride graduated from Allegheny College, where for the past year and a half she has been on the staff of the Dean of Women. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. The groom is also a graduate of Allegheny College and of Harvard Law School. His fraternity is Phi Delta Theta.

Those who attended the wedding from New Castle were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blaisdell, Mrs. Jay L. Reed, and Miss Mary Minehan.

Hurme-Harris
Mr. and Mrs. William Hurme of the East Brook road announce the marriage of their daughter, Ellen, to Floyd Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harris, of the Hileman apartments. more Pan American geography, economics; study the language they speak; think kindly of our Latin Americans here in the U. S. and when traveling. "We have got to show we have what it takes, and we have to have a kind of courage that it calls for to win this struggle," he concluded.

Dr. Wenner went into detail on the humanistic and economic side of the question, showing how we have become vulnerable to situations, focusing on the thought that "we are all in this international row boat, and it is up to each individual, whether we sink or keep on top, rowing, rowing, rowing, 'together.'"

Mrs. John Elliott taking charge, presented Roger Jewett who spoke briefly of New Castle defense problems, emphasizing the importance of everyone turning in and doing their part, in the Greater New Castle projects.

An invitation was extended by Mrs. William Margraf to attend the Hershey Auxiliary "Spring Tea" at the First Presbyterian church on Thursday, May 21, at 2 o'clock. Also, an invitation was given for the Music Club presentation of "Hiawatha" on May 11 in George Washington Junior High.

Elliott; second vice-president, Mrs. Glenn Berry; recording secretary, Mrs. Charles E. Allen; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. L. Stitzinger; treasurer, Mrs. E. L. WILLIAMSON SOCIETY HAS ANNUAL BANQUET

Mothers-daughters banquet for the Jean Hill Williamson society was held in Highland U. P. church Monday evening, the occasion being cleverly carried out in time with the "V" for victory theme. Mrs. W. J. Minnard and her committee originated the setting.

Patriotic appointments predominated in the favors and table appointments, and prominently was a beautiful silk American flag, flanked by evergreens and reflected determinedly in floodlights. A float-lit lighted candle was the centerpiece, and the delicious menu served by Unit Four, the Naomi Circle, was followed by the program.

Mrs. Edward Grofend, president, extended greetings and Mrs. Leonard Kisthardt offered the invocation. Mrs. J. L. Reed gave a medley of popular piano selections at an appropriate time and later Mrs. Irvine Bolph presided as toastmistress of the evening. Miss Nancy Klee gave the response, "Toast To Mothers". Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith sang "Mother O' Mine" with her daughter Patricia playing the piano accompaniment. Mrs. William Klee later gave the "Toast to Daughters".

Guest speaker was Mrs. Arthur French, missionary from Haenan, China, who cleverly wove her timely and interesting story, "Through a Glass, Darkly", around an ancient Chinese mirror.

The next regular meeting on June 1 will be with Mrs. C. R. Kennaday of the Harlansburg road.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

CARE OF CHILD WHERE MOTHER WORKS

Many mothers of young children are now working away from home and leaving the care of their children to some other person. When they return home they must listen to long tales of the child's misbehavior. Then they suppose the only thing for them to do is to punish the youngster. This kind of punishment almost never has the desired effect.

Usually this type of treatment contributes to increasing bad behavior in the mother's absence. The punishment comes too long after the offense occurred. It puts the other person in the position of an official tattler, and makes the child less cooperative. What is still worse, it associates unpleasantness with the mother's homecoming and robs her and the child of happy companionship.

First of all the mother should get a competent caretaker and then she should teach the child to learn the meaning of NO. In various ways she can let the child learn that the caretaker's word is the same as her own.

Must Assume Responsibility Let the person in charge assume complete responsibility in the parent's absence. If undesirable behavior must be reported it should be done out of the youngster's hearing. There should be no punishment in consequence. The information should only be used to guide the parent in choosing whether to employ a more capable nurse, stay home, or take the consequences.

Few parents are willing to pay enough to the people attending their children. Many mothers who are working could afford to pay more than they do for these services and assure wise guidance and protection for their children.

I wish that high schools would train girls to care for young children and that there were also good courses for older girls and women connected with placement services who could be made dependable and would require adequate compensation for the work.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Are there good books and pamphlets available for expectant mothers?

A. Yes; I should be glad to send you, without cost, a selected list of such, if you will write me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three cent stamp.

Q. "How much time for outdoor play should a 10-year-old child have while going to school?"

A. At least two hours a day on school days and much more on Saturday and Sunday, when nobody will bother him for irregular errands.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THEY CAN HELP

Some young men want to go to war. Some do not care anything about it. Some would like to avoid it entirely. Among the latter class are men who will do anything to escape service in the United States armed forces. They will take drugs to upset their heart action. They will plead that their wives are unable to support themselves; that their wives are sick and never have earned a dollar in their lives and do not know how to earn one.

Once in a while we find a young man like the chap who although he never had a military thought in his life, became so angry after Pearl Harbor that he joined the Navy. He has a terrible time after acquiring his uniform. He saluted the wrong people for about a week and got everything confused, including his tie, which he just could not tie and acted correctly.

There was someone, however, in civil life, who saw and realized how much trouble the young sailor had with his tie and this friend pressed the tie and tied it, and showed him very carefully how to slip the knot, without having to retie it very day, and the chap went back to his station very happy.

Everything went well, until one morning at inspection when the officer in charge stepped up before him and said: "That is the best tied tie in the outfit. Who tied it?" The sailor, to his horror, found himself saying in a loud, military voice: "A girl, sir."

It almost broke up inspection.

Japan Talks Of Hundred Year War Now
Must Win Quickly Though Or Lose All
Japanese Are Making All Out Efforts

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Gloomy forebodings as to the future, rather than grim determination, are spread by international diagnosticians as responsible for Japan's suggestion of the possibility of warfare's continuation throughout another century or more.

Nippon goes into a conflict with lots of pep but its staying qualities aren't very good, probably because its scanty resources play out pretty fast and it realizes that it's got to win in big time or presently be licked flatter than a pancake.

The military crowd's smotherly reckless. Starting a fight's an almost overpowering urge with 'em, and, once in it, they positively insist on dying, in preference to defeat. The average Jap, though, likes to go on living as long as he can. And there are millions more average Japs than there are Jap militarists. The civil government (what we call the administration here) represents mainly the average, and perhaps would do it as per popular desire if it could.

The trouble is, however, that the militarists are at the governmental top in Japan. What they say goes—maybe not theoretically but in fact.

Accordingly, when they decreed war, in the whole country went.

All availables were conscripted. Economics and industry were dictatorialized. All national life was made over on the jump.

Off To Fight Start

Well, the militarists are efficient in their way. They are formidably equipped for the juncture and caught the United Nations off base in Hawaii, the Philippines, the Dutch East Indies and Australia.

scored tellingly in that area and doubtless stirred up plenty of enthusiasm for their cause. Yet it may be beginning to cool as their home archipelago starts to feel the pinch at the waistline.

The surmise is that the government's trying to pacify 'em—to assure them that the affairs due to come out satisfactorily ultimately, even if it takes 100 years.

The original version was that the issue would be decided in a matter of months.

"Let's keep it up until the year 2042 and we'll still dominate the world." Whether or no it'll convince 'em, I'm waiting to see.

The appeal was an official radio broadcast from Tokyo, any day.

We've heard lately a deal about peace offensives, impending from the Axis powers.

We're expected to look for 'em as offensives on the Axis' own terms. This Jap offering certainly isn't one of them—a peace to be deferred for 10 years, and then on the Japs' terms.

Nevertheless, German and Italian peace offers are beginning to be rumored as contemplated pretty soon.

They're certainly regarded with suspicion.

Nobody disputes that the Italians want to quit the Axis—that they're in desperate shape is disseminated, too, by Rome radio, indorsed by Duce Mussolini, and rumors are included that King Victor Emanuel is displacing Benito in favor of Marshal Badoglio, to take peace negotiations in hand. Nobody believes, however, because Italy's as utterly vanquished by Germany as the rest of Germany vanquished Europe is, and can't so much as peep independently.

Italy's Hands Tied

Of course it would be nice to have Italy rebel, but what's the chance?—ask all observers.

That France, the Low Countries, the Balkans and the Scandinavians will tear loose at the first opportunity goes without saying. Turkey's sympathetic. The three real proletarians are Fuehrer Hitler, Duce Mussolini and Caudillo Franco of Spain, and they seem to be on the run.

How Germany will come out is problematic. It's had its traditions of democracy. The last war put 'em on the Fritz.

Japan, obviously, won't last long, after Germany and Italy are liquidated.

It won't string out for 100 years. That's a cinch.

Bible Thought For Today

If we are like the sheep of his pasture God will lead us safely. It is when we imagine that we know more than God that we go astray. The Lord preserveth the simple.—Psalm 116:6.

Words Of Wisdom

Philosophy can add to our happiness in no other manner but by diminishing our misery. It should pretend to increase our present stock, but make us economists of what we are possessed of. Happy were we all born philosophers, all born with a talent of thus dissipating our own cares by spreading them upon all mankind.—Goldsmith.

Hints On Etiquette

Go easy on the perfume. It is nice to smell a delicate odor on a lovely woman, but it is practically knocked over by an overpowering scene. The first is consideration for others—or good manners—the latter poor taste.

The six great scents of America's early days were Boone, Crockett, Carson, Bridger, Wild Bill Hickok and Buffalo Bill Cody.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

International News Service Staff Writer
Thurman Arnold's boss won't let him testify at a congressional hearing because the subject is "Controversial."

This is the first time anybody has thrown a blanket over Old Thurman and it's like keeping Joe Louis out of a fight because blows may be struck.

Old Thurman has been swapping body punches so long he looks a little strange in a neutral corner.

On even days he swings a powerful left at capital. On odd days he jabs labor with a short right.

Old Thurman's boss the Attorney General, said he thought Thurman's position was already well known on the "Controversial" subject which happened to be an angle of labor.

He said that "Mr. Arnold has heretofore expressed himself" on the subject.

When you say that Mr. Arnold has "expressed" himself on anything you mean that he has gone 10 rounds with it and is breathing easily.

It looks now like he isn't going to be matched for the next all-star card.

Thought for today: C'mon out fellas—he's gone.

AGE OF ACTION

I told his daddy stories when he was three years old.

Of golden-haired princesses and princes brave and bold: But these two tykes are modern. They bid me rack my brains.

For heroes wearing goggles who ride in aeroplanes.

The tales of elves and fairies don't thrill them quite enough: They want no Cinderella, but cowboys wild and tough.

They want their action "super", with pistols on the blaze.

And death-defying heroes the bullets never graze.

I told his daddy fables of fox and bad wolf and bear:

But these two rogues want robbers and plots designed to scare.

And just about their bedtime they climb upon my knee.

To seek and capture villains wherever they may be.

Our pistol-shooting heroes have never missed a shot.

Who bids our man defiance will die upon the spot.

And when at last to prison the villains all are led.

With shouts of "Hi Yo, Silver!" we gallop off to bed.

What is the status of the health of our children?

Recent years have shown a great reduction in deaths.

Average population ages have increased by years.

Several children's diseases have practically vanished.

Vaccination against smallpox has contributed much.

Immunization against diphtheria has reduced the death rate.

Medicine now offers immunization in other diseases.

Scarlet fever, whooping cough and typhoid fever are included.

Every child has a right to these preventive measures.

Physical defects should be corrected early.

Parents should call the family doctor to immunize.

Habit of health can be instilled in the child by parents.

HAPPYGRAMS

Karsten Idzal, officer on a tanker that is sunk by a submarine has come safely home to New York after nine days in an open life boat.

For nine days the boatload of survivors lived on a few tins of biscuits given them by the submarine crew after their ship was struck.

"The had days and nights of storm and rain and were finally rescued by a Swiss freighter, bound from Genoa to New York."

When asked what impressed him most about his harrowing experience he said, "My American cigaret lighter. I don't know what we would have done without it."

It's usually the little things that impress people most.

The first thing one aviator whose plane crashed to the ground and who had a miraculous escape asked for was a ham sandwich and a cup of coffee.

Heroism is something for historians to glorify.

But the people who make history prefer a sandwich and a smoke to glory and adulation.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—In a special message to congress, President Roosevelt on Monday requested the appropriation of $102,150,000 for the NYA and CCC to finance their activities through the 1943 fiscal year.

British Consul Talks About War

Tells Rotary Club Members To Be Prepared For Any Emergencies

DR. W. L. BEAL
NEW PRESIDENT

In addition to a splendid talk by Hon. James Bissiker of Cleveland, O. British Consul, in which he told of the effort being put forth by the British in the war, members of Rotary also had their annual election of officers at the weekly noon hour luncheon meeting, Monday.

New officers named for the coming year: President, Dr. W. L. Beal; vice president, Rev. Father Peter M. Schirra; secretary, Carl E. Paisley; treasurer, Frank L. Orth; directors, Walter W. Duff, Richard E. Rantz, and Harry L. Elder.

Warns of Bombing
Mr. Bissiker in his talk, told of a trip he made late last year to his homeland in an American bomber, which was being ferried across, eleven passengers crowded into the bomb bay, in space sufficient for six, the trip occupying only a little over 16 hours from Montreal to Scotland.

Discussing the damage done by the German Blitz, he warned Americans to be prepared for some such effort in this country. It would be comparatively easy for an aircraft carrier to approach the eastern coast and release a squadron of bombers, which would have short range to Cleveland and the Pittsburgh district, the great steel producing area, he stated. Being prepared for such an eventuality, even though it never came, would be more profitable than to neglect it and be sorry afterwards.

Mr. Bissiker stated that in spite of the great war effort now being made in this country, that England is turning out more war material, with one-third the population, due to the fact that the British workman is putting in longer hours in the war effort, and all non-essential industry has been stopped altogether.

Last summer, he stated, the average British worker in the shipyards was putting in 84 hours a week, which was curtailed during the winter because of less daylight, but that it is now speeding up again. The average of all workers is from 60 to 65 hours a week for the men, and 50 hours a week for the women, many of whom are doing jobs that it had been felt they could not accomplish.

Mr. Bissiker offered no criticism of the fact that England and the United States were not prepared for the war, saying it was the way of democracies, that they are governed by the will of the people, and the people prior to the war were unwilling to prepare themselves for the present great conflict. Industry was being devoted to things for the betterment of mankind then.

In addition to maintaining large armies in Africa, the Near East, India and the East Indies, Britain has delivered a great quantity of war supplies to Russia, and has met every obligation promised the Russians.

British youth is ready to make the sacrifices which will be needed of them when the time comes, but offensive action is being withheld now due to lack of shipping, which might be badly used up in an offensive. He said that a better understanding between nations would be needed after the war to promote a lasting peace.

Cowan Elected Head Of Eagles

New Officers Are Named During Annual Election Conducted On Monday

George Cowan was elected president of the New Castle Aerie No. 455, Fraternal Order of Eagles, on Monday.

On June 1, Cowan will succeed James Maher. Other officials named: Albert Grzesiuk, vice president; Herbert Johnson, chaplain; J. S. Reid, secretary; Carmine Navarra, treasurer; J. E. McCracken, conductor; Frank Peterson, inside guard; Harry Evans, Harry McCormack and Joseph Wilkins, trustees.

In the battle of El Caney in the Spanish-American war, the Spanish casualties were 320, while the American losses were about 440.

First Forty Model Planes Made In Local Schools Sent To Philadelphia

New Castle students are doing their part in national defense, and doing it very well, too, it was learned today when John Duran of Washington junior high school announced that the first 40 of New Castle's quota of 100 model planes for civilian defense spotters had been sent to Philadelphia.

Some 50,000 of these bright toy-like replicas of the world's deadliest fighting machines are being made in high schools all over the country to train civilian defense spotters to distinguish friendly and enemy planes. In addition, they are used in army and navy pilot training.

Earle M. Cass, head of the school system's vocational training department, announced that the program had been begun on March 1 by a committee headed by John Duran of Washington junior high school. He is assisted by John Cornelius of senior high, Ralph Humphrey and Russell Nemley, both from Ben Franklin junior high school.

With about 100 students, including six very able girls, participating, Mr. Duran has made rapid progress with the project. Mr. Cass said today that despite limited facilities New Castle schools are far ahead of other schools of comparable size.

Each day finds New Castle students bending over work benches and lathes turning out work that must be accurate to one-sixty-fourth of an inch and doing it very professionally. The local quota of 100 planes is due to be finished by June 15 but Mr. Cass said today that he would be very surprised if they were not finished by the first of June.

Lewis Campaign To Organize Dairymen Opens

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—John L. Lewis' campaign to organize the dairy farmers shifted into high gear today as the Pittsburgh office of district 50 opened a three-day meeting to discuss the methods to be employed in bringing the dairymen into the union.

At the same time it was learned that the Milk Cooperative will hold their meeting at State College on May 7, more than a month earlier than originally planned.

The disclosure of the advanced date was made by Howard B. Steele, executive secretary of the Dairymen's Cooperative Sales Association. He explained that the conference would be held jointly by the Pennsylvania Association of Cooperatives' organization and the Pennsylvania Council of Farm Organizations. Representatives of Free Farmers, Inc., a group formed to fight Lewis' unionizing gestures, also have been invited.

At the district 50 meeting, which is the first public sign of the UMW's intentions in western Pennsylvania, 21 representatives of this state and West Virginia were scheduled to be present. Conspicuous among the delegates was John O'Leary, international board member from West Virginia, prominently mentioned to succeed CIO President Philip Murray when, or if, Lewis manages to oust him as vice president of the mine workers, as reports say he is trying to do.

The meeting was in charge of Abe Vales, western Pennsylvania regional director, who came to this office last November after serving as a sub-regional director for the S. W. O. C.

Possible Next Move Of Japan Discussed

(Editor's Note: Japan's next move after consolidating her hold on Burma is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst, and author of "Mechanized Might".)

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 5.—With Japan in possession of French Indo-China, Thailand, the Malayan peninsula, Burma and the Dutch East Indies, the armed forces of the country of the Rising Sun are in position to strike north at China, west at India, or south against Australia.

The Japanese troops in Burma are now reported to be within 20 miles of the Chinese border on the Burma road, and it would appear that all of Burma may soon be held by the enemy.

Extremely Important
The Japanese subjugation of Burma was extremely important to them in order to cut the Burma road, and if possible any new route out of India to China. Thus keeping Chiang Kai-Shek and his nationalistic armies from receiving practically any supplies from the south. The seizure of oil in Burma was of almost equal importance to the Nipponese. Lastly, Burma is a jumping off place for an overland attack against India.

It should be remembered that ever since the diplomatic disputes between French Indo-China and Japan, or perhaps for more than a year and a half past, the Nipponese have been making French Indo-China and the island of Hainan operations bases of tremendous proportions. Throughout this entire period, there has been a continuous flow of men and war material to these locations.

Where to Strike?
Will Japan strike north against nationalistic China? Chiang Kai-Shek is now practically isolated from the world. All important Chinese seaports are Japanese held, the Burma road is cut, and it is probable that new supply routes out of India may likewise be severed. The only main route of supply left to nationalistic China is the old overland route out of Russia from the north.

However, the Soviet now has no seaports left except Vladivostok, which could be largely controlled by the Japanese navy, and Marmansk in the north. If the Nazi navy can cut off the northern Arctic port or make its use uncertain, Russia herself could be largely shut off from outside supplies, that is, if the Japanese navy in the Indian ocean can stop or disrupt our line of replenishment to the Soviet via the Persian Gulf.

May Leave China
Considering these facts, it is possible that the Japanese high command thinks little or no decisive help can reach Chiang Kai-Shek and therefore it is left to leave China as is, at least for the time being.

Will Japan strike westward at India? The jewel of the British empire is in somewhat the same condition as China and Russia, that is, Tokyo probably believes the Japanese navy controls the Bay of Bengal and the Indian ocean. Again, the orientals may figure that serious outside assistance, other than by air, cannot reach India. But there is at least one factor for an attempted immediate invasion. If any meeting of Nazi troops from the east with the Japanese from the west is considered, the Nipponese of necessity will have to invade and attempt to cross through India.

But lastly, the high command of the country of the Rising Sun may believe that the overthrow of the jewel of the British empire can be largely accomplished from within by means of fifth column activities.

Australia Pressing
Again, it is possible that with India, as with China, the Axis strategic military objectives may not be considered as pressing as is the case of Australia.

Will the Japanese attempt an invasion of Australia? The Nipponese have protected their sea route from the Japanese islands to their main Far Eastern supply bases by their capture of the Philippines and the Dutch East Indies. With Australia held by the United Nations, all the captured territory is impeded for the country of "down under" is the one starting place for the democracies to use in recapturing Japanese gains. But in the reverse order of their loss.

We are shipping armed forces in strength together with much war material to Australia. The United Nations know that the land of the "Aussies" must be held at all costs.

as their fight-back base. The Nipponese are entirely aware that as long as our supply routes to this Far Eastern outpost continue to function, Australian strength will grow by leaps and bounds. That continent is the real menace to all of the gains made by Japan to date. Therefore, it seems that the Nipponese are liable to make an "all out" effort to capture or isolate Australia.

It is not beyond the bounds of possibilities that the Nipponese think they have sufficient strength to attack simultaneously two, or even three, of the objectives mentioned.

However, the Japanese gains and war objectives are causing a permanent division of the Nipponese navy, possibly into three parts: one, to remain in defense of the Japanese islands; two, to blockade the Bay of Bengal and the Indian ocean; and three, as indicated in recent news reports, to accompany any new assault against Australia or the islands to the east.

It looks as though the Japanese navy had become over-extended. In fact, perhaps the Nipponese have committed the very mistake they tried without success to tempt our navy into making.

Air Raid Tags To Be Distributed

Hundred Thousand To Be Apportioned To Communities In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 5.—Distribution of 100,000 identification tags to be tied to air raid casualties to expedite treatment was begun today throughout Pennsylvania under the supervision of the state defense council.

The tags were the first federal supplies received for distribution throughout the state under the $100,000,000 congressional appropriation to be shared by all states. Arranged in books of 20, the tags are being sent to county chiefs of emergency medical service on a basis of county population. Pennsylvania is expected to receive more than 200,000 tags or about one book of 20 for every 1000 population.

Spaces are provided on the tag for the name, address and age of the casualty, name of person to be notified, scene of injury, diagnosis of injuries and first aid treatment administered.

The state council said that Pennsylvania is expected to receive helmets, ambulances, fire equipment and a variety of medical supplies in so-called "target areas" or sections surrounding vital industrial areas.

Urges Completion Of Defense Corps In Pennsylvania

Citizens' Defense Corps Should Be Completed At Once Says Director

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 5.—The importance of completing the organization of the citizen's defense corps throughout Pennsylvania was stressed by Dr. A. C. Marts, executive director of the state council of defense, in a communication to the county and local councils.

Dr. Marts emphasized the need for practicing blackouts "in earnest."

"It is urgently necessary that we complete the organization of the citizens' defense corps rapidly, that we drill it to assure us that it will function when the need arises, and that we practice blackout in earnest and know that our people are ready to stay blacked out, if necessary," he stated.

"To accomplish this, probably the first and most important work to be done is to complete the setting up of the control centers with carefully chosen commanders and staffs and then practice their functioning."

"An air raid is war. War conditions are suddenly brought to a civilian population. The citizens' defense corps must function amid war conditions. It becomes a combat organization. No commander of combat troops would ever willingly take into combat undrilled and untrained troops. No commander of a citizen's defense corps should let himself be caught by an air raid with an undrilled personnel, as it is only by such drill that the majority of the personnel will be able to do the job for which they are enlisted."

Pennsylvania already has more than 330,000 volunteers enrolled and in training for citizens defense corps duties, and control centers have been set up in most of the eastern cities and in some western cities. Practice blackout have been held in about half of the counties.

In a recent statement, Dr. Marts declared the three most important tasks facing councils of defense are: (1) Bringing the citizens defense corps to full strength of 700,000 trained volunteers, (2) Completion of control centers, with at least one in each county, and (3) Issuing the regulations authorized in the new Pennsylvania air raid precautions act. The first set of regulations is now being prepared by the state council.

Other communications sent to the county and local councils by the S.C.D. included: A renewed plea for conservation of supplies in the victory garden program with suggestions for cooperative use of garden tools and collection and repair of broken tools; and a plan announcing official insignia for clergymen wishing to serve as chaplains with citizen's defense corps units.

Legion Celebrates Membership Drive

Delightful Dinner Attended By 175 Members Of Post, Auxiliary, Guests

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Two-fold was the purpose of the celebration held last evening by the J. Wilbur Randolph Post of the American Legion, and the event proved to be a hundred-fold successful and enjoyable.

The occasion was arranged in celebration of the membership drives of the Legion and the Auxiliary which both went over the goal, and also celebrated the formal opening of the new Post rooms. To their hall, the Post has added a large room to be used for dinners and recreational purposes, a small social room, and a splendidly equipped kitchen. The improvements are modern and progressive and reflect the initiative of the Post leaders.

For the evening, the Post and Auxiliary were joined by specially invited guests, with the entire group totalling almost 175. A delicious chicken dinner was served as the initial feature by members of the Hannah P. McDonald class of the First U. P. church, with the tables being festively decorated in patriotic colors and spring flowers.

Daniel C. Hartbauer, state Americanism chairman, of Pittsburgh, was the main speaker of the evening, and he gave a forceful talk on the need of maintaining the four freedoms and the Bill of Rights, regardless of the sacrifice. National resources, industries, 132,000,000 people, freedom of industry and intolerance, equality and justice, were pointed out by the speaker as all being represented by the American flag, which America is trying to protect.

With the greatest wealth and power of the world, United States became complacent, and the post-mortem of that complacency shows that she is now threatened by the slavery which holds nineteen nations of Europe in bondage. This country is wealthy only in one common thing, freedom, and the American spirit of courage and individualism is the fundamental thing that will preserve that freedom, Mr. Hartbauer declared.

Attorney Randall B. Luke as toastmaster presented the speaker. Others who spoke briefly included: Burgess Clyde B. Houk, who talked about the American flag; district commander, James Collins, of Saxenburg, who lauded the local units on their successful membership drives and made a plea that they serve as voluntary agents in discrediting the unfavorable rumors that are whispered about to cause disunity among the American people; and Beaver county committee commander, Harry Weisner, who told about the important part the Ellwood Post carries in the county association, and predicted that a member of the Ellwood Post, Walter P. Simpson, would be the next committee president.

A welcome greeting was extended the group by Mrs. Oscar Bair, president of the Legion Auxiliary. Commander, S. R. Bersler, opened the meeting by welcoming the distinguished certificate holders, D. A. Evans, J. A. Evans, Paxton R. Fike, and the Gold Star mothers, Mrs. Ella Hennon and Mrs. Margaret Bugno and other city officials.

Cards and dancing brought the evening to an enjoyable and fitting close.

Franklin Directors Levy Five Mill Tax

Board Cuts School Tax Rate In Half Achieving Record In District

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—In these days of soaring prices, news of reduction in taxes is the most welcome kind, and when the reduction is half of an already very low rate it is almost unbelievable.

Last night the Franklin township board of directors gathered at the North Star school and levied the school tax at the rate of five mills, which is undoubtedly one of the lowest school tax levies in the state. A five dollar per capita tax was also levied. Last year's school levy was ten mills. For the past several years the school board, which undeniably must have some secret of the King Midas kind, has been steadily decreasing the millage.

There are 12 teachers in the district and in addition the township has almost 100 high school tuition pupils. The largest school is North Star, which takes care of pupils of Knox, Frisco, Rockdale, North Sewickley and a part of the Zelenople road area, and there are several one-room buildings in the township. All of the schools are in good condition and have modern equipment. The valuation rate is about equal that of the surrounding districts. The board's ability to successfully maintain the schools on such a low millage reflects the far-sighted thrift and business ability of the directors. Additionally, the school district has a sizable bank account and no indebtedness. School tax levies of surrounding districts range from 20 to 30 mills.

It was decided to install new drinking fountains in the North Star school and to give a contribution to the school band.

Hundreds of friends called at the funeral home to pay final respects to the deceased, and many lovely flowers evidenced the regard in which he was held.

Interment was made in the family plot in Locust Grove cemetery, with employees of the Ledger serving as pallbearers.

Register 5,315 For Sugar Cards

Registrations For Domestic Users To Continue At Schools Through Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Beginning at noon, 5,315 persons, representing 44 per cent of the total population of Ellwood City, jammed the Ellwood City schools to register for the domestic rationing of sugar.

Although residents had been asked to register by alphabetic listing on the four days, almost half of the entire group eligible to register appeared on Monday, forcing the teachers to abandon the initial plan. An effort was made to register the applicants by turn. With about 15 minutes required to register each family, many persons waited in long lines for several hours. Being one case where "walking out" didn't affect anybody but themselves, most people accepted the waiting good-naturedly.

The largest school registration was at the North Side building, where 1,439 blanks were filled. Being a much larger crowd than was expected on the first day, Superintendent of Schools J. Ellis Bell said that the teachers did an excellent job of handling the registration.

Registrations will be taken today and Thursday from four until five and from seven until nine o'clock at each of the Ellwood schools. Schools will close tomorrow (Wednesday) at noon, and registrations will be taken from one until five and from 6:30 until nine o'clock.

Stamp one must be used by May 16; stamp 2 between May 17 and 30; stamp 3 between May 31 and June 13; and stamp 4 between June 14 and 27.

At the Circle school some of the registrants took the application blanks with them. Superintendent Bell asks that all blanks be returned.

Registrations at the rural schools are being taken daily from four until nine p. m. Most of these schools also had an unexpected first day rush, and here, too, the alphabetic listing was disregarded.

Registration in the North Star school, Franklin township, is taken from noon until evening, and is by grade, with anyone who was unable to come on the designated day being asked to register on Thursday.

Budget Discussed By Perry Directors

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—When the Perry township school board convened last night at the Wurtemburg school, the tentative budget for the coming school year was accepted.

The budget is based on the present tax rate of 22 mills with an additional five dollar per capita tax. It is likely that the same tax rate will remain unchanged.

Other business, other than routine, included the election of C. W. Jackson as treasurer; and W. L. Timblin as tax collector.

This is a Toaster

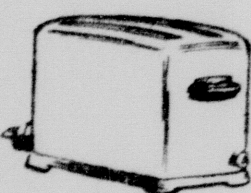

Gay Nineties model. There was a time when every home had one

Then somebody invented a better toaster. HE ADVERTISED IT. Everybody wanted it —and soon everybody had the new-type toaster instead of the old-fashioned grill.

This is an Electric Toaster

It is new and modern. Since it was first advertised many people have wanted it —many people have bought it. Every day more and more homes have electric toasters.

This is an Inventor

He is inventing an electric toaster

This is an Advertisement

It is advertising an electric toaster. The advertisement is just as important as the inventor. It shows people what the new toaster looks like, explains how it works, quotes its price and tells where to buy it.

IF THE PUBLIC DIDN'T KNOW THESE THINGS, THERE WOULD BE SO FEW OF THE NEW-TYPE TOASTERS MADE THAT MOST PEOPLE COULDN'T AFFORD THEM.

Once, everybody had a grill toaster. Manufacturers knew that the only way to get people to buy more toasters was to offer them better toasters. One manufacturer invented a better toaster. He advertised it.

COMPETITION is what makes one manufacturer want to make a better product than another manufacturer. ADVERTISING is the way he tells the public, "My product is better than it was before."

Then, of course, his competitor improves his product, so that he can truthfully advertise that his product is better, too.

So our standard of living is being improved every day because we are getting better products for the same or less money.

Competition is what is improving our standard of living.

Advertising is what keeps competition alive.

THUS ADVERTISING IS ONE OF THE MOST VITAL FORCES IN RAISING OUR STANDARD OF LIVING.

When business is better in this town everybody benefits. When everybody in the town knows what's going on all over the world, each man can tell better how to vote, what to buy and how to protect himself.

Read these ads each week. Tell your friends to read them. They tell you what an important part your newspaper has in helping you to know what's going on, so you can decide what you personally are going to do about it all.

Renews Attacks On Special Commissions In U. S. Army Forces

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Renewing his assault on "wholesale commissioning of socially and politically prominent civilians" in the army, Rep. Faddis (D.) Pa., a member of the House military affairs committee, demanded Monday that they be relieved by retired officers and be given combat duty.

The Pennsylvania congressman has attached an amendment to the pending army pay roll bill prohibiting the award of army commissions to untrained civilians, charging that the practice amounts "almost to a national scandal."

"I recognize the necessity for the appointment from civil life of some specialists and have no desire to throttle the army in that respect," Faddis said.

"I do, however, intend to stop the commissioning of a man of no particular qualifications because he happens to be socially or politically prominent and the drafting into the ranks of another just because he does not happen to be so."

"An examination of my mail will show that the people of the nation are aware of this abuse and are highly resentful of it."

Faddis said that the army and navy, if they are short of officers, should order to active service some of the thousands of retired officers now on three-quarters pay and place them in executive positions and relieve for active duty the multitudes of young officers we see around Washington.

"Let them install a system which will make use of the talent which is offered when men of military experience come to Washington to offer their services and are given the old well-known 'walking treatments' until they leave in disgust," he said.

"Let the office of the adjutant general so over its list of pigeon-holed applications and give these men a chance. Let them give the young men who completed three years of instruction at the CMTC camps a chance to take an examination for second lieutenants."

Faddis also charged that the "wholesale commissioning of civilians of social and political prominence in the air corps of the army and navy" is a move "to create political pressure for a separate air corps."

"It will be very easy to indoctrinate them with the philosophy of a separate air corps and when the war is over to bring political pressure on such a demand," he said.

After having been connected with private industry for eight years and also as a partner to Thomas A. Gilkey, Glenn R. Throop, who resigned as city engineer Monday, became an attaché of the city engineer's department and took over the reins of the position he vacated in 1935.

In accepting his resignation yesterday council paid him high tribute. He will be employed by the United Engineering & Foundry company in work essential to the prosecution of the war.

As a member of the Gilkey firm, Throop had charge of bridge design and construction in Lawrence county and after going to the city position he was in charge of the various governmental work relief agencies in addition to doing the city's work.

During Throop's administration the city paved 73 streets, or about 16 miles. A large number of sanitary sewers and storm sewers were built, among them the North Mercer street sewer which required two years to construct.

The latter sewer alleviated flood conditions in that section. Another big job he had charge of was the municipal airport on Route 422. The airport has a high rating with the government for construction and location. Plans for future development already have been prepared.

He also had charge of the changing of the channel of the Big Run between the Shenango river and Galbreath avenue and got under way after a flood. The work has reached a point where the possibility of a flood is now negligible.

Plans were made and work started on the most serious curves in State street last year and will probably be completed in July.

In leaving the city's employ, Throop advised council that he wanted the council, at any time they felt they needed him, to let him know and he would find time to help them on any problem that now confronts them or may confront them.

He spoke of the courteous association that existed between him and officials. He said that he felt that with a war on, he believed he could be more essential in work connected with the war than as the city engineer.

Ickes' Statement Cheers District

Plenty Of Gasoline In Western Pennsylvania Is Report Of Official

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Petroleum Co-ordinator Harold L. Ickes' statement that western Pennsylvania may be removed from the gasoline rationing area cheered producers, defense workers and motorists alike today from the rich oil fields in the northwestern section of the state to populous industrial Pittsburgh.

Ickes' declaration, in which he said some relief ought to be provided for the residents of western Pennsylvania because of the huge surplus of gasoline available here, followed closely a Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce survey which indicated that reserve supplies were increasing steadily.

It came, too, shortly after producers in the Oil City district admitted that an acute shortage problem was threatening possible production curtailment. Producers there said that storage facilities were near the bulging point, and that unless they find a market shortly, a production crisis will develop.

The Pittsburgh Chamber survey showed that as of March 31 the gasoline surplus on hand in district refineries was 778,946 barrels, equivalent to 32,715,732 gallons. President Frank L. Duggan pointed out that "our gasoline surplus stocks are going upward and our consumption is shrinking to a marked degree."

Many Types Of Building Still Permitted Here

Local Construction Firm Says That Considerable Work Is Permitted

Although many people have the idea that the recent ruling of the WPB prohibits all construction work, a local building and construction firm states that there is still much work that is permitted.

For instance, one can still build a garage or barn, add a new room or porch, modernize one's attic or basement, put on a new roof or repair or replace one's home or surroundings without priorities.

The fundamental purpose of the order, it was explained by him, is to conserve scarce materials for essential war uses, but the provisions are generous enough to prevent anyone neglecting the repair and maintenance of one's home, barn, store or factory.

New construction in town or on the farm up to $500 is permitted; farm buildings up to $1,000 are allowed, and reconstruction or restoration of residential construction damaged or destroyed after Dec. 31, 1941, by fire, flood, tornado, earthquake or any act of God or the public enemy is permissible.

The order also encourages with priorities, private construction of defense houses and alteration of houses in defense areas.

Local Volunteers Needed For Navy

Chief Petty Officer D. C. Ritchie, local naval recruiting officer, today appealed for more navy volunteers to defeat the Axis.

"Our navy," Chief Ritchie said, "must have more men for its ever-growing fleet of warships. The navy relies solely on volunteers and it is the duty of every loyal American to volunteer in some capacity to wage an all-out war against our enemies."

He said that the navy will accept any man, physically qualified, between the ages of 17 and 50, and added that experience in naval work was not necessary—that the navy wanted men badly and would train them for a number of trades which would be useful on return to civilian life. Men with trades can enlist and receive a petty officer rating right away.

Chief Ritchie's offices are in room 204 in the post office and are open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. every day but Sunday ready to give volunteers all details about the navy.

Nine British Airmen Shot Down In Raid Reach Neutral Sweden

(International News Service)

STOCKHOLM, May 5.—Nine British airmen whose planes were shot down in the RAF raid on the German naval base in Trondheim fjord have reached the safety of neutral Sweden after miraculous escapes and terrible hardships.

Swedish authorities revealed today that the men had covered from 30 to 50 miles from the points where their planes crashed or they parachuted to earth during the attack last week on the heavily fortified Nazi base on the west coast of Norway.

The RAF crewmen plowed through snow waist deep in the treacherous mountain passes on the border, traveling in groups of two and three and dodging German troops throughout the journey.

All of them carried pocket compasses and maps of the bombed area and surrounding territory on silk cloth. They did not dare show themselves to ask for food but lived on concentrated food tablets.

Five of the men who made their way across the Swedish border were from two RAF bombers, they said. When the British airmen reached Sweden they asked for food and an opportunity to sleep. Both were provided.

It was assumed they would be interned.

Swedish newspapers marveled at the feat of the RAF men in covering the snow-filled passes without skis, and their determination in making their way through the snow-filled passes. The spring thaws made the trip particularly hazardous as tons of snow and ice and slush were constantly crashing down the mountainsides.

The pilot of one British plane which was set afire in mid-air by German anti-aircraft fire brought the ship to a crash landing on the shore of a lake and he and all members of the crew scrambled into the water to douse their burning uniforms.

When the British airmen reached Sweden they asked for food and an opportunity to sleep. Both were provided.

It was assumed they would be interned.

Cagey Bell Defeats Tabor In Fast Bout

Baxter Outboxes Jackson; Cordy Drops Madison In Third

M'EWEN AND CAREY WIN; GARDNER LOSES

Cagey Tommy Bell of Youngstown, defeated Chris Tabor, Niles slugger in a vicious three round amateur middleweight boxing bout before hundreds of fans in The Arena Monday night.

Previously Tabor had vanquished by decision both Russell Baxter and Frankie Genaro, but last Bell demonstrated he could punch more often than Tabor and set faster. He also out-generalized Chris.

After the first round which was about even Bell's craftiness asserted itself. He out-boxed Tabor at long range and outfought him in the clinches.

Now and then Tabor got over some hard punches to the chin which staggered Bell but the multitude of rapier-like jabs, cutting short hooks to the body and strategy earned Bell the award.

In fact, toward the tag of the third, Tabor was trying to stall his way through by poking his head through the ropes and clinching. He was tired and missed considerably.

Russell Baxter, the local middleweight came back strong last night and defeated Henry Jackson of Steubenville in three fast rounds. After the opening stanza Baxter had the Buckeye State battler's number.

Both were fast and fought mostly to the head. However, after the first half of the second round the fight belonged all to Baxter who forced the fighting.

The Frankie Cordy, Niles vs Johnny Madison, Youngstown, lightweight fight was a battle with a capital B. In fact, it was one of the fastest and best slugger matches ever held in The Arena.

Madison stood a head taller and outwitted Cordy, but that did not prevent Cordy from tearing into his foe. However, let it also be said of Madison that the fight was only his fourth.

Cordy Drops Madison In the first round there was little to choose between them but in the second Cordy bullied into his taller opponent and fought for both head and over-hand punches and telling blows to the stomach.

Madison tried to jab off the oncoming crouching Cordy instead of using hooks. However, time and again he did catch Cordy coming in and whenever he did the blows were solid and hurt Frankie.

In the last round Cordy sent a right to the chin that dropped Madison for six seconds. He got up and when Cordy swarmed in, for the kill he found Madison ready to slug back.

The bell sounded while they were punning, and offer all over the ring. They broke quickly at the command of Referee Sam Leyschok. Cordy got the decision.

In the opening bout Bobby McEwen, New Castle, upset the w. k. dope bucket by outpointing the experienced Sammy Felice of Youngstown, at 118. Both were fast, fought hard and pleased the crowd.

Joe Beats Chinaman

In the second bout Joe Perrone of Steubenville, showing all the earmarks of a professional, won by a TKO in the third round from the Chinaman, Foo Yee of Youngstown at 112. Foo Yee wasn't tough or cagey enough for Joe.

Pete Carey, this city, knocked out Floyd Jackson of Farrell in the second round. He caught Floyd with a right to the jaw during a flurry of punches.

Billy Grumbaker and Johnny Davidson, middleweights of Youngstown, the former a southpaw, fought viciously for three rounds. Billy had more knowledge than Davidson and won the decision.

Johnny Gardner, this city and Percy Brown, Youngstown, lightweights slugged for three rounds. The judges split on the decision and the referee, Sammy Leyschok gave the nod to the Youngstown fighter.

Excellent Bout

Gardner was off balance and missed considerably. However, he landed the heaviest and most punches and forced the fighting. We figured he won but the decision rendered officially will stand.

Although there was a million dollars worth of fighting the house was small probably because two out-towners occupied the main spot. However, the fights proved again that whenever one is held here there is action.

Phil G. Greer and Frankie Ross, the latter an ex-fighter and baseball player, were the judges and Billy Fazzone was the timekeeper. Staff Sergeant John Dean, U. S. M. C., was the announcer.

Norman Ross of Butler represented the State Athletic commission and Ed. Fritz Sr., the A. A. U. Tommy Leach made the matches for the Jefferson A. C.

ZARILLA CAPTURES HIGH POINT LAUREL

Ben Franklin junior high's resourceful track team ran, jumped and tossed itself to an impressive 117-1 to 46-1 point victory over a Mahoningtown aggregation, Monday afternoon at Taggart stadium.

The Cunningham avenue clippers bagged 15 firsts compared to five for the runners representing the seventh ward.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Serambing a few tidbits:—

At Orlando's debut in a Butler Yankee uniform was one of the impressive side of the ledger. The seventh warbler fielded perfectly, displaying the agility and smoothness of an adagio dancer. The localite went hitless. He wasn't alone, since the Yanks grabbed only a half dozen safeties in beating Brackenridge, 4-1.

The P. H. Bridenbachers have returned from Foster Field, Victoria, Texas, where they saw their son, Ross, receive his "wings." The flyer started in track for Franklin & Marshall, the same institution from which the New Castle high coach was graduated.

Westminster's Fred Miller will defend the pole vault record he established during the 1940 District Intercollegiate track and field meet Saturday, at Beaver Falls. The Titans' Cornelius Wimmerdam, who stars in basketball, too, crossed the bar at the 11 foot 7 inch mark to smash the previous mark.

Lem Franklin's cut for being tagged out by Bob Pastor reportedly was $15,000. Not bad for a guy who was belting home not too long ago. If Joe Louis is commiserated, there is a strong possibility that he may not defend his title for a long, long time. He's supposedly up for promotion.

Bucs Half Game From Penthouse

Klinger Turns In Six-Hitter As Pirates Nip Braves, 2-1; Indians Lose

CINCY REDS TALLY DOZEN IN FOURTH

(International News Service) NEW YORK, May 5 — A hustling, fighting ball club led and sparked by the inimitable Frankie Frisch rapidly is forcing itself into consideration in a fast-tightening national league pennant race. The Pittsburgh Pirates have served notice that they don't plan to be pushovers in this campaign and today stand just one-half game behind the champion and league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rated a good-hitting team but uncertain because of seeming weakness in pitching, observers have perceived that the Pirates may have enough mound stuff, too, and if so will be tougher before they get any softer for the rest of the circuit.

Bob Klinger turned in a masterful six-hitter yesterday to score a victory by 2 to 1 over Jim Tobin, of the Boston Braves, who was the victim of a ninth inning fumble by Eddie Miller followed by singles made by Vince DeMaggio and Elbie Fletcher.

That meant the ball game and meant that Frisch is beginning to cash in on replacements brought to Pittsburgh since he took over the reins. He hasn't won any pennants yet, but the club is hustling all the way, hitting and now getting some pitching.

Cincy Goes Wild

The pace-setting Dodgers were among the clubs that idled and the only other game in the circuit the Cincinnati Reds belted the New York Giants around by 15 to 4 and approached a major league record in the process. They scored 12 of their runs in the fourth inning and with that came within two of the one-hitting standards set by the Yankees in 1920 and equaled by the Chicago Cubs in 1922.

Eighteen Reds went to bat in the fourth and nine of them scored before the Giants could retire one, although only one of the 12 runs was earned. The Giants made five errors, three in that wild inning.

With St. Louis and Washington raised out the American league schedule was cut to three games in which the pace-setting Cleveland Indians lost ground to all the other three first division clubs.

Detroit's second game Tigers beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 4, the Yankees won over the Chicago White Sox behind Spurgeon Chandler, 6 to 1, and the Boston Red Sox themselves beat the Indians, 11 to 8, for two in a row after snapping the Indians' winning streak.

Heber Newsome was credited with his fourth win for the Sox in the latter contest, although he failed to finish and the Indians did not lose the game because of any lack of power. They out-hit the Sox by 15 to 11 and had home runs from Heath, Mack and Denning — but still couldn't win.

BRUBAKER SIGNS

SYRACUSE — Bill Brubaker, the ex-Pittsburgh Pirate infielder, has been signed by Syracuse of the International League. The ex-Bucco was made a free agent by Rochester of the same circuit, this enabling him to autograph another document.

N. Y. A. Nine Tops Hickory Heights

Displaying terrific power at the plate, the N.Y.A. baseball team flattened Hickory Heights, 13-9, Monday on the N.Y.A. park (Cunningham Park).

Carmen Costa spanked a long triple for the John Rubels coached aggregation while St. Clair three-baggered for the losers. Hajec and Strong accounted for three hits apiece for the winning nine. Gayla, N.Y.A. third sacker, was injured in the opening inning and received first aid treatment.

In coping their season opener, the localites looked impressive.

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 5.—William A. (Red) Francis of the Blairmont Country club, Hollidaysburg, led the four qualifiers for the PGA tourney today from the tri-state district. Other district qualifiers were Sam Parks, Jr., of South Hills, 146; Dick Schoemaker, Chartiers Heights, and Edmond (Monty) Onoretti, Schenley Park, both 147. Francis' 145 was just one stroke over par.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 5.—Fight fans who have been deprived of their favorite fair while Gargantua, the clowns and other odds and ends of the circus held fourth at Madison Square Garden for the annual turn here, will troop back to that arena on May 15, convinced as ever that Sammy Angott is going to get whipped. They probably will file out a little later on convinced all over again that he still can fight enough to best contenders for his world lightweight championship.

Devoid of the flash that is so pleasing to look at, Angott is a workmanlike, plodding young fellow who has managed to drop no more than a fight a year since 1937 and will probably keep that record intact against Alvin Scola in defense of the 135-pound crown. The latter has all the flash in his engagement, but will get bull-dogged and slugged from a number of angles and possibly take a bad beating.

Sentimental Favorite

Despite that he definitely will enter the ring as the sentimental favorite because of his local following and quite possibly will be the betting favorite, Angott seems never to have the odds with him, although he almost never blows a fight, has never been knocked out, has won the N. B. A. and New York commission lightweight titles in the last two years to get general recognition as boss of his division and in his last start here beat a good welterweight though handicapped with a broken left thumb.

Angott hooked Bob Montgomery, the Philadelphia hero, on the head early in the fight and wound up with his hand in a plaster cast, but he won that one against betting odds of 13 and 14 to 5 on Montgomery.

Personally I think he will give Stolz a good lesson in the manly art of getting whacked around through 15 rounds, unless Stolz simply gets so much that he can't go any farther. In that case Angott may even score a knockout, although if you mention that here they will call the wagon and hustle you off to have your head examined.

They say you should throw out the Jenkins fight because the then title-holder was washed up and has proved to be since. All right, throw that one out, but you can't throw out the record book and the Montgomery fight. Stolz is far from a Montgomery, yet Angott won that one breezily.

And all those others that he has been coming up against in the last three or four years, except just one man every 12 months or so, has been taken care of convincingly. Angott positively is not a Benny Leonard or a champion who will go into the records among the greats, but he doesn't have to be, and the object after all is to win. He'll do that.

Phils-Pirates To Play Pair Of Service Fund Games; Bobo- Dorazio Fight Monday

By DICK SHANER
(International News Service Staff Writer)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Odds and ends from the little black book: The Phils and Pirates will play their service fund benefits on Wednesday, May 19, and Thursday, July 9. The first set to will be at Shibe Park, with the Phils playing hosts, and the second will be at Forbes Field. Both clubs will donate their receipts to the Army and Navy relief funds.

It's beginning to look like Philadelphia's promoter of pugilism, Herman Taylor, and Pittsburgh's Jake Mintz, another purveyor of cauliflower talent, might have a tug of war to see who gets the Harry Bobo-Melio Bettina fight this summer. Taylor has announced that he hopes to pair the winner of the Bobo-Gus Dorazio fight in Philly next Monday night with Bettina as his first outdoor attraction. And Mintz has similar plans for Bobo in Pittsburgh. Bobo hasn't been able to get Mintz to make a high enough offer for his talents, so he might be inclined to bend an ear toward Philadelphia. . . . Bettina won a questionable decision over Bobo around Christmas-time, so a return match would be a natural, especially in view of Bobo's current high standing. . . . Dorazio is a "spoiler" so far as records go, but the dynamite Deacon from the Smokey City, with nothing to gain and everything to lose, ought to finish him off in jig-time.

Philadelphians have been working up considerable enthusiasm for next Monday night's show. Dorazio has a healthy hometown following, and Bobo's reputation as a paralyzing slugger both add up to a nice sweet tune at the turnstiles.

CIRCUS AT PITTSBURGH

Shortly before that riotous Pittsburgh-Brooklyn game last week, Frankie Frisch confided to the boys that he had just made a resolution. . . . That he wasn't going to get into anymore fights with the umpires. . . . And to keep the extra players out of trouble, he told them to report to the bull pen instead of the dugout. . . . When the game started, and the Buccos were in playing positions, only Frisch, the trained and the batboy were in the dugout. . . . Umpire "Beans" Reardon almost blew a fuse when he noticed this, and ordered the players into the dugout. . . . Instead, the old Pordham flash told them to go back to the clubhouse and listen to the radio. . . . Then along came that ninth inning splurge when Frisch, and Al Lopez tangled with the powers that be. . . . What followed was described as one of the biggest and best circuses that has been seen on the Pirate orchard in a dozen years. . . . And all on the very day that Frisch had resolved not to fight with umpires.

Durocher, Three Players, Fined

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 5.—Manager "Lippy" Leo Durocher of the Dodgers and three of his Brooklyn players who participated in a disturbance Sunday during a game at St. Louis were fined by President Ford Frick of the National League.

Durocher who was banished from the field during the opener of a doubleheader against the Cardinals was fined $50. Chester Kehn, rookie pitcher; Dolph Camilli, veteran first sacker; and Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons, pitcher and coach, each were assessed fines of $25.

Billy Southworth, Cardinal manager, and Whit Wyatt, Brooklyn pitcher, who also were ousted during the first game, escaped fines.

The charge against Durocher was that he failed to leave the field when ordered to do so by the umpires. Kehn lost his $25 because of profanity. Camilli and Fitzsimmons were tagged for their actions on the field.

UMPIRES MEET THIS EVENING

City League Meets Wednesday Evening

Will Polish Off Final Details
Before Inaugurating Another Season

City Baseball league managers and officials will hold their last meeting prior to opening of another season on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. The schedule, being drawn up by "Happy" Colalucia of Croton, will be presented.

Three City-County Battles Wednesday

City-County Independent Baseball league aggregations continue into the second round of play Wednesday night.

Vice President Charles Bishop today announced that the unions have dropped out of the league, thus transforming the loop into a six-team circuit.

Games listed for tomorrow night: West Side versus Kestown, Ryan-town field; South Hills versus St. Margaret's, E. & A. field, Mahoningtown; Deweys versus Rockets, George Washington junior high field.

South Hills dumped the West Side A. C. 10-8 and the Deweys annihilated St. Margaret's, 21-4, in Sunday's lid lifters.

WEST SIDERS FACE TITANS WEDNESDAY

With a pair of impressive victories already decorating the book, the West Side Tigers bid for their third triumph on Wednesday night at 6 o'clock on Lee avenue field. The Morrison-Gilbert piloted aggregation stacks up against the Westminster Collegians, comprised of standout Titans.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEFALL

We would like to ask a little favor of you people who have cats . . . we would like to give you a little favor . . . well, there is a certain family, just new in this community who would like to have about twenty cats, good ratters. They have a farm and small children and rats . . . so if you would just call 8010-R 2 arrangements can be made concerning cats. They will get a good home so here is your opportunity to give your pets away and help a new member in our community.

Unless the cold becomes too severe there should be a good crop of fruits in the county. The blossoms seem to be quite full so let's hope that nothing happens this month to kill all our hopes. Good peaches and pears and a cherry pie, even without sugar will taste mighty good next winter when the boys come home with Victory.

All you get on the street this week is talk about the sugar registration in the public schools . . . this is one time that school teachers can have their job . . . But there are interesting things happening all the time . . . take for instance the little happening at Oak street school yesterday . . . At nine o'clock last night a family representative came in to register, one member of that family (not present at the school) was born yesterday at noon. That is the record so far for the youngest person in the registration. Yes, the job of getting ready for rationing sugar is some job . . . in fact it is an all day job.

Some people have enough sugar on hand to last them for some time . . . at least that is what it seems when you hear that one store in New Castle sold about 15 tons of sugar in two days . . . that was a week or so ago . . . other stores over the county and state and states sold equally as much.

Don't forget the classified ad page . . . it will help you buy and sell anything you might desire. Odds and ends . . . when spring cleaning you sometimes run across items that you no longer need . . . but there is someone or more than one who could use that item . . . why not put an ad in this page . . . twenty words for the classified ad page . . . stop in and let our ad writers help you.

SURPRISE MOVE BEATS JAPANESE TO MADAGASCAR

Land At Dawn

Bay across a ten-mile isthmus from Diego Suarez, Madagascar's chief northern harbor.

The landing was made at the crack of dawn from transports escorted by heavy British naval units. Unconfirmed reports said that the French cruisers Montcalm and Mar-seilles and the submarine tender Jules Verne were at Madagascar. Whether they would go into action against the British or surrender themselves as "Free French" units was a matter for keen speculation.

London, overjoyed by official announcement that for the first time Syria and Iran the United Nations had taken the initiative to forestall enemy aggression, assumed that the undertaking would be successful. It was regarded as a foregone conclusion that Japan would have taken Madagascar by force, threat or cajolery unless the British moved first.

Long In Making

The Madagascar move apparently had long been in the making. Announcement that commands participated in the Courier Bay landing indicated that Lord Louis Mountbatten, their supreme commander and cousin of King George VI, had a good deal to do with planning the move.

Britons were particularly thrilled by the news because of recent ominous reports that Japan was moving swiftly toward full control of the Indian Ocean. From bases in the captured Andaman Islands, the enemy had been raising havoc with United Nations shipping and had sent aircraft carriers to bomb the British naval bases at Colombo and Trincomalee on the island of Ceylon.

Little Opposition

Obviously, however, the Japanese were unable to extend this control further west from the Bay of Bengal and the British found an opportunity to slip through and deal to Japan's time-table of conquest one of the heaviest blows the island empire has yet received.

Little opposition was encountered, it was said.

A joint communique of the admiralty and the war office said: "Reports have been received from the British force commander indicating our forces have landed at Courrier Bay, Madagascar, covered by naval aircraft with the intention of proceeding across the isthmus to the naval base at Diego Suarez."

It is hoped that the French authorities will accept the offer of the United Nations to help in the defense of the island against Axis aggression.

Frustrate Japs

The naval force off the islands is commanded by Rear Admiral E. N. Syfret. The military force, which consists of regular troops and a small contingent of special service troops is commanded by Major General R. G. Stuges of the Royal Marines.

The landing at Madagascar by British forces frustrated any attempt which the Japanese may have made to occupy the vital Indian Ocean island.

It was stated authoritatively that no Free French, American or South African personnel were aboard the warships and transports which arrived at Madagascar.

The special service troops mentioned in the joint communique referred to British commandos.

The French troops on the island were said to be under command of General Guillemin, an artillery officer of the French Colonial army and a Vichyite.

The isthmus which the landed forces must traverse is ten miles in length.

Says French To Resist

London, May 5.—Firm determination to "resist to the bitter end" was expressed by the military commandant of Madagascar in reply to a British ultimatum for unconditional surrender, the Vichy news agency reported today, according to a Reuters dispatch.

Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and Admiral Jean Francois Darlan sent a message to the commandant-in-chief of land, sea and air forces at Madagascar urging French troops to resist the attack and "defend the honor of the French flag," Reuters added.

Sailors Convoy Troops Including Half Brothers

By JOHN R. HENRY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE ATLANTIC FLEET, May 5.—Two U. S. sailors, a ship's cook and an apprentice seaman, told today how their vessel helped escort a troop convoy in which their half brothers were sailing.

A yeoman, aboard the same warship, was told that his uncle, a soldier, was in one of the troops transported, piped up with the remark that, "it looks like this army and navy is one, big family affair."

Ironically, none of the kinsmen were able to personally contact each other before the convoy embarked.

The sailors and marines were not permitted to leave their vessels for many hours before anchor was lifted nor were the bluejackets allowed to board the troop carriers.

The managed to communicate with each other only through "round-about channels, which all concerned said was not quite satisfactory.

The sailors whose brothers were getting away to war shared their disappointment together in a sea-side tavern, and the lad whose uncle was embarking for some undisclosed battle arena, commented, "this is a helluva mexp, isn't it?"

Charles Culbertson, 36-year-old 3rd class ship's cook from San Francisco, explained that he had not seen his half brother, 23-year-old Hugh N. Dalton, of Russellville, Ky., in nearly six years.

Young Dalton, he said, is an artillery officer.

Bob Bible, a seaman from Meridian, Tex., said: "I tried every way I could to get a sight of Ray Farrell, my half-brother." Ray has been in the Marine Corps for two years.

Both Bible and Culbertson joined the Navy at the outbreak of the war.

The lad who missed his uncle is A. C. Tindle of Pensacola Fla. His uncle, L. L. Doggett of Quitman, Miss., is a warrant officer in the marine corps.

State Chairman Sees Harr Winner

Meredith Myers Confident
Luther A. Harr Will Be Nominated

Luther A. Harr, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor will win the primary election on May 19, in the opinion of Meredith Myers, state chairman of the Democratic party. Mr. Myers was in New Castle Monday conferring with County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers who is the Lawrence County chairman for Harr. A reception was held by Mr. Myers in the Castleton Hotel at six o'clock.

Mr. Myers bases his prediction upon the fact that there is dissension in the party ranks as between the leaders endorsing Judge Ralph H. Smith of Pittsburgh and State Auditor-General F. Clair Ross of Butler. Myers believes enough Democrats are interested in party harmony to get back of Harr and nominate him.

car, the note warned that any "warlike act permitted by the French government against the government of Great Britain or the government of the United States would of necessity have to be regarded by the government of the United States as an attack upon the United States as a whole."

The American note also warned the pro-Axis government of Pierre Laval that the United States "will not hesitate" to land American troops on Madagascar to help Great Britain hold that island should it become "necessary or desirable."

These strong American warnings to Vichy are understood to be intended to make Laval think twice before ordering any retaliatory action against Great Britain or attempting to use the French fleet to retake the island from the British.

Food Stamp Plan May Be Launched Soon In County

Assistance Board Still Awaiting Office Equipment Needed
For Service

Lawrence County expects soon to be added to the fast-growing list of Pennsylvania counties which participate in the stamp plan to augment staple foods, it was stated by the New Castle Relief Board today.

As soon as office equipment can be secured under the priorities system and procedures approved by the agricultural marketing administration in Washington, the local grocery stores will accept the orange and blue stamps for surplus foods.

Some time ago, the county commissioners' office allocated a revolving fund of $12,000 to finance the program. Those eligible to participate in the plan are relief registrants. The registrants will receive a blue stamp worth 50 cents each time they pay $1 for orange stamps covering staple foods. The extra blue stamp will be used to augment the diet by the purchase of certain goods designated monthly by the agricultural marketing administration on a district basis to make the best use of over-abundant foods in that section.

A sample list of surplus goods available to make the relief dollar go further includes eggs, butter, grapefruit, apples, oranges, fresh vegetables, prunes, flour, and cornmeal. Although many of the goods are purchased by regular relief checks, recipients are free to purchase whatever they want with the blue checks.

Aged Persons And Children Largest Group On Relief

Survey Of State Relief Shows
Only One Third Between 18 And 65 Years

State-wide survey reveals that only one-third of Pennsylvania's relief population consists of persons between 18 and 65, while one out of every six persons over 65 was receiving assistance and one out of every seventeen children under 18. No statement could be secured from the local Relief Board about the proportions in Lawrence county.

There was a pronounced predominance of women on the relief rolls, and it was said that in the age group considered most employable, 25-44, there were only 32 men for every 100 women.

It was also disclosed that almost 22% of the assistance population was colored although Negroes make up less than 5% of the state's total population; that the average adult on relief had had between five and six years of school; and that half of the adult relief recipients were classified as unemployable because of old age. Others were crippled or invalids, or needed at home.

Dale Boro School Wins State Prize

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Dale Boro high school at Johnstown has won the 1942 state contest honors award or "sweepstake prize" of the Pennsylvania Forensic and Music League, according to announcement from C. Stanton Belfour, executive secretary of the league at the University of Pittsburgh.

This award, conferred annually by the league at its state contest, has no relation to rankings in the '38 music and speech contests, but rather is based on the number of entries and their performance ratings. Dale Boro also won the award in 1938. In 1939, 1940 and 1941 Oil City was the recipient of this award. The first ten schools with the highest accumulation of honor points in the recent 15th annual state contest at Bloomsburg are: Dale Boro, Danville, Southmont, Mars, Greenville, Huntingdon, Sharon, Ebensburg-Cambria, Norristown and Grove City. The honors award is conferred by the University of Pittsburgh, sponsor of the league.
